Dear Scott:

Congratulations! This letter is to inform you that you have successfully passed from NRMCA's Pervious Concrete Certification Exam conducted by the Texas Aggregate & Concrete Association on December 29, 2009 thereby earning your Pervious Technician Certification. Your score for the written exam is as follows:

Pervious Concrete Contractor Exam Score	92%
--	------------

The required passing score is 75%. Your Pervious Concrete Technician Certification is valid for five years: it expires December 28, 2014.

Please note that your examination scores are sent directly to you. Specific exam results will not be sent to your employer unless requested. However, should your employer contact NRMCA in writing regarding your certification status, we will provide your pass/fail results upon their request.

If you have any questions regarding your exam results, please contact me at (240) 485-1154 or by email at sdickens@nrmca.org

Sincerely,

Shawnita Dickens
